

City College of San Francisco

Spring 2014

Middle East Studies

POLS 45 Government and Politics of Middle East

T/Th 9:40–10:55 • CRN 32055 • HC 214 Ocean Campus

An introduction to contemporary politics of the Middle East emphasizing historical, social, and economic factors in order to better understand current events, the region, and its people.

Meets GE requirement Area D, CSU/UC, Honors Contract Available, Jabbar/Israel

IDST 29 Introduction to Islam

W 6:15–9:05 • CRN 32629 • BATL 203 Ocean Campus

An interdisciplinary course covering the basic principles of Islam, its commonalities with Judaism and Christianity, Sufism, art and architecture, the role of women, and media representation.

Meets GE requirement Area D, CSU/UC, Honors Contract Available, Chaterjee/Jandali

IDST 30 Demystifying the Middle East

T/Th 12:40–1:55 • CRN 33810 • ARTX 181 Ocean Campus

This interdisciplinary survey of the Middle East introduces students to the cultural and religious diversity of the region, highlighting contributions in various disciplines, including science, art, music and literature. It also examines depictions of the region and its people in Western art, literature, media and current political discourse.

Meets GE requirement Areas D, E, and H1, CSU/UC, Honors Contract Available, Israel

IDST 81B Anti-Semitism/Anti-Arabism

Sat 10:10 am–6:00pm • April 26 & May 3 • CRN 31865 • MUB 170

An introductory course examining the roots of oppression of Jews and Arabs and encouraging strategies and action plans for social justice.

Meets GE requirement Areas D1 and H2, CSU, Honors Contract Available, Abusaad/Rosenwasser

For more information:

POLS 45, contact <ajabbar@ccsf.edu>

All IDST Courses, contact <lmuller@ccsf.edu> (415)239-3854

