

FALL 2015

Critical Middle East Studies at

City College of San Francisco

Courses offered:

IDST29 Introduction to Islam

W 6:00-8:50PM * CRN 76861 * BATL 203 * Ocean Campus

An interdisciplinary course covering the basic principles of Islam, its commonalities with Judaism, Christianity, Sufism, art and architecture, the role of women and media representations.

Meets GE requirements areas D, E, and H1, CSU/UC, Honors contract available. Meets core course requirement for the Certificate in Critical Middle East (SWANA) Studies.

IDST30 Demystifying the Middle East

TR 11:10-12:25PM * CRN 72639 * HC 207 * Ocean Campus

This interdisciplinary survey of the Middle East introduces students to diverse peoples, cultures, and places that make up the region, highlighting contributions in religion, sciences, letters and arts, it also analyzes historical and contemporary depictions of the region and its people in a political context.

Meets GE requirements areas D, E, and H1, CSU/UC, Honors contract available. Meets core course requirement for the Certificate in Critical Middle East (SWANA) Studies.

Enroll now at www.ccsf.edu

For more information contact: Lauren Muller, lmuller@ccsf.edu, (415)239-3854 or Kinneret Israel, kisrael@ccsf.edu, (415)452-5343